Labor Relations Board Stymies Quaker's Union

Union workers at Quaker Industries in Antioch, members of Lodge 714 of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers have made a try at breaking away from that union. They want to form a different union called the Independent Workers of North America with other local unions who are as disenchanted with the Boilermakers as they are.

The workers in Antioch have been left in a negotiating limbo now that the National Labor Relations Board has stopped the election (slated for Friday) which would have decided the allowance of the breakaway.

According to the labor board, the election was stopped because the international union has filed a grievance against the union at Quaker for alleged unfair labor practices.

Even a recommendation from the labor board's regional director, Don Crawford, to allow the election but impound the votes until the grievance is settled was overruled.

The big problem is that the local union's contract expires on Friday, March 27, contract negotiations were to start. Quaker employees do not want to negotiate as part of the international union. The labor board's ruling has left the local union without a bargaining representative.

Heads of the local union are worried that this is a stalemate that can go on for a long time if the labor board continues to postpone the election when any grievances are filed.

No Commuter Service In Near Future

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch will not be seeing a commuter rail service to Chicago in "the foreseeable future."

According to Chris Knapton, director of public information for Metra, a public transportation agency which combines all the Chicago commuter rail services, the staff recommendation to Metra's Board is that any such service (if there will be any) would be from Mundelein north to a Des Plaines hookup.

A study conducted by Metra shows ridership north of Grayslake (which includes areas over the state line in Wisconsin being considered Silver Lake and Burlington), would produce only 250 riders per day or five bus loads of passengers. This ridership would be unfeasible cost-wise.

Knapton added that there were many barriers to be surmounted before any passenger wheels turn, one being the rumored sale of the portion of Soo Line tracks under consideration for use by Metra, meaning negotiations with the buyer for track use.

Larger railroads have been selling portions of their track areas nationwide to regional railroads.

A representative of NORTRAND had talked to the Antioch Village Board two weeks ago on the feasibility of running a commuter service from Antioch and other Lake County municipalities to Chicago pointing out that a sufficient ridership is a must.

This will not be good news to some businessmen and officials who have been hoping for a Schaumburg-Arlington Heights type growth in the Antioch area.

A commuter service to the city is considered necessary for growth of that magnitude. Presently people who live in the Antioch area and work in Chicago must drive 15-20 minutes to either the tollroad or the train (Northwestern) in Fox Lake and then drive over one hour or ride the train for almost two hours one way to work.

Metra receives 54 percent of its operating capital from passengers and 46 percent from the old RTA system.

5 Way Battle For 3 Trustee Seats Gets Hot

by GLORIA DAVIS

The race for the three open trustee seats on the Antioch Village Board started out calmly and quietly, but its getting more interesting as the five candidates head for the finish line on April 7.

The three incumbents, Don Amundsen, Robert Wilton and Mabel Lou Weber, are running on their records of long time service to the village.

Larry Hanson, acting president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, has been running a write-in campaign based on his youth, eagerness and experience in community affairs gained in many years service for the Chamber.

Lyle Wilson, chairman of the Antioch Plan Commission, claims to have shown a genuine interest in the running of the village by serving seven years on that commission. He claims to feel an honest responsiveness to the feeling of the community.

Citizens' groups sponsored a candidates night at the First National Bank of Antioch on Tuesday to hear the answers to questions on increasing board communication with, and responsiveness to, the various committees and commissions and the people; refurbishing the downtown area and bringing in more business and industry to broaden the tax base.

Amundsen urges more people to attend board meetings and to keep in communication with the board. He claims to be attending plan and zoning commission meetings to keep in touch with the people's wants. He says that his work on the downtown redevelopment committee shows his interest in the downtown area.

He's for growth in the village but not at any cost. "It must be balanced with financial growth considering impact on the sewers, schools, streets, etc. He's concerned about the traffic pattern in the new strip mall proposal for Rte. 83 across from the high school and thinks that caution should be used on retail space increase with 30 more already in Antioch's future.

Weber is in a little hot water with some Anita St. residents because she was the only trustee to vote for the controversial first apartment phase on Anita St. because she "thought it the best use of the land."

"Antioch needs rental property for those who cannot buy," she said, adding, each apartment proposal should be considered separately and her first yes vote doesn't mean that she will vote the same on future proposals.

She believes in media use for communication and adds that information is always available at the village hall. She mentioned a new way of posting zoning changes on the property concerned.

Weber urges the use of the most competent profession developer the village has employed, Don Davis, when it comes to plan- (Continued on Page 3)

Lake County has been issued a final property assessment equalization factor of 1.000, according to Roger D. Sweet, director of the Illinois Dept. of Revenue.

Under a law passed in 1975, property in Illinois should be assessed at 33.33 percent of its market value. Farm property is assessed differently, with farm homesites and dwellings subject to regular assessing and equalization procedures, but with farm land assessed at one-third of its agricultural economic value. Farmland is not subject to the state equalization factor. Assessments in Lake County are at 33.45 percent of market value, based on sales of properties in 1983 through 1985.

The final assessment equalization factor was issued after a public hearing on the tentative factor, issued in January, also of 1,000.

If this three-year average level of assessment is one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be one. If the average level of assessment is greater than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be less than one. And if the average level of assessment is less than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be greater than one.

The assessed value of an individual property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume. That individual's portion of tax responsibility is not changed by the multiplier.

Despite Cold Temps Antioch Rolls On

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

It was a pleasure to see the sun shine early Monday morning. So what if it's cold outside, and the furnace has been running all night! The sun gives hope and lifts the spirits. Maybe snow will come in the evening as forecasted, or maybe the weathermen will be wrong...such are the musings of one still on the job while many friends and neighbors, and it seems all college students (if you watch MTV) have opted for a week in Florida!

Still life goes on in Antioch. On Saturday, April 4 three events are planned to lift your spirits (or spirit) also:

At 3 p.m., Saturday, April 4 the First Church of Christ, Scientist of Antioch will sponsor a free lecture entitled "Love Without Harm: Its Spiritual Basis" at Antioch Community High School. The speaker will be Margaret M. Rennie CSB, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston. The public is invited; there will be a supervised nursery.

On the evening of April 4 you can choose between the "Good News Bears" basketball game sponsored by the Antioch Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. and ACHS or...

You can attend the 8 p.m. opening night performance of PM and L's musical "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," directed by Donna Badtke. Remember, reservations can be made by calling (312) 395-3055.

Come April 6, school reconvenes, all our friends have great tans, mothers can suffer their "nervous break-downs" in peace and quiet, and it's business as usual.

The Antioch Grade School Band Parents' Assn. will meet at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 6 at the Antioch Upper Grade School Cafeteria. All Dist. 34 parents of band members from grades four through eight are eligible and encouraged to attend.

On Tuesday, April 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the First National Band of Antioch, 440 Lake St., the Antioch Chapter of Womens' Aglow Fellowship will present special speaker Mary Peterson. She is involved in ministry to the Jewish people, through children, called "Love-grams." Admission is $1.50 and the public is invited.

Don't forget to vote in the local April 7 election. You don't have a legitimate complaint about anything your local government does or doesn't do unless you exercise your right to vote!

5 Way Battle

She too is concerned about the traffic pattern at the point of the Town and Country mall proposal is waiting for zoning and planning recommendations saying, "growth is good but time and caution are utmost."

Hanson feels he has already been involved with communicating with the people by talking with groups like the AARP. He feels his experience on the Chamber and its retail committee more than qualify him to work for Antioch's economic growth.

He has worked on the art and RV shows and is more than willing to wave the flag to let everyone know that Antioch is a great place to live and do business in.

"I feel that the older generation gave us a good community and it is the job of my generation to preserve and add to what they have given us," says Hanson touting the need for youth and enthusiasm to be added to the experience of those on the board.

Wilton, who has sat in the mayor's seat himself, feels that the neighborhood coffees he started when he ran for mayor in 1973 were one of the best ways to get people interested in village government.

"We got committee heads out of those coffees," he said.

He too urges people to attend the board meetings to keepin touch with what the board is doing.

"The only time most people come to the meetings is when something affects them personally," said Wilton.

he thinks that the proposed mall should be considered with the overall village plan.

"Antioch has not grown like its surrounding communities, we will grow and we have to plan controled growth," he said adding, "if and when the county sewer system takes effect, the growth will escalate and we'll have nothing to say about it."

Wilton voted against the multi-family construction on Anita St. because, "it was too many for the area, we have to balance multi-family development."

Wilton added that the retail future of Antioch "is obviously on Rte. 173, we can't stop it, it will improve the tax base. All we can do is support measures to keep growth orderly and development controlled."

Women Set To See Play

The Antioch Women's Club will meet on Wednesday, April 8 at Riptide's in Johnsburg.

Lunch will be at noon after an earlier cocktail hour.

The play "A Husband for Opal" will begin at 1:30 p.m. Members and guests may make reservations by calling (312)395-6711 or (312)395-0897.

Passing Into History

Lakeland residents take modern sanitation for granted these days. Many residents hereabouts would be surprised to know that as recent as 30 years ago, sanitary sewers were only something to talk about and wish for in many areas of Lake County. Pressures of growth and urbanization in the 1950's made septic systems inadequate as a method of sewage disposal. Defective septs were endangering public health.

One of the areas with a concentration of defective septic systems was the Gages Lake-Wildwood area in central Lake County. After several years of debate, property owners voted to form a sanitary district and bond themselves to install a system of sewers and a sewage disposal plant. The district was formed in 1960. A sewer system and treatment facility was designed at a cost of $1,200,000 to serve 4,000 residents. It became operational in 1963.

Now that system is on the verge of extinction as voters of the Gages Lake Sanitary Dist. go to the polls April 7 to vote on dissolving the district which has served its purpose and outlived its usefulness.

The history of the Gages Lake Sanitary Dist. is a classic example of citizens working to help themselves achieve a common good, the trials and tribulations of bringing a complicated project to fruition and how modern technology has made all the work and effort obsolete.

In only a few years the capacity of 6,000 residents was reached and the original treatment works on Edic Rd. became inadequate. Efforts to merge the Gages Lake system with Grayslake to take advantage of centralization failed to materialize in the late 1960's. Stand alone sewage treatment works in rapidly urbanizing areas quickly became inadequate and inefficient. In the decade of the 1970's, the Gages Lake system was merged into the Lake County Public Works Dept. sewage disposal network. The era of autonomous sewage treatment works ended with small sanitary districts becoming legal entities only, there no longer being any operational function or purpose.

A new generation of voters can conclude the business of the district Tuesday. There has been no opposition to the dissolution proposal. Thirty years ago public sanitation was a burning issue in the Wildwood-Gages Lake area. Probably only a handful of voters will go to the polls to finalize dissolution.

Agency Ready To 'Dig In'

For the first time since its inception there will be tangible evidence this summer in the form of a dredge that the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency is alive and functioning.

A total of $700,000 in state monies has been released for the purchase of the dredge and engineering. Channel deepening in the upper Chain has been earmarked as the first project with Ackerman Island, Grass Lake, identified as a spoils area.

Dredging will not only improve navigation, but will also enhance water flowage. Silting is a continuous problem in the 64,000 acres of water and mud bottoms. Advocates of dredging were among those who supported formation of the agency and now they will see the fruits of their efforts beginning in August. It is interesting that commissioners expect to operate the dredge most of the year. With the absence of boaters and fishermen, the equipment probably will be able to operate more efficiently in winter than summer.

The agency operates without benefit of taxes. Income is derived from boating permit fees and other state sources such as a portion of the gasoline tax.

Everything we've seen of agency operations so far has been positive. The purchase of the dredge is exciting news. We wish Chairman John Soffietti and fellow commissioners well.

Hurray For Three Point Era

Cheer up, little men. Your day is coming! The era of the three point basketball shot is upon us and Dr. Nesmith's game probably will never be the same. Just as the three pointer brought a new dimension to the college game the past season, it is certain to alter high school basketball as much or more in Illinois where it has officially been adopted for the 1987-88 season.

We're all for the three point shot. Not only will the offense be opened up, but there will be more suspense added. The three point shooter in basketball is the equivalent of the homerun slugger or the touchdown bomb.

Besides, three point shooters don't have to be seven feet tall or be able to jump over the rim. Short guys can "bury the ball" as easily as big guys.

Coaches will have to dream up new defenses to stop the three point marksman so the extra point will change the whole strategy and complexion of basketball. There'll be a spot on the team now for the accurate shooter. More players will see action.

From now on the magic number in basketball will be 19-9. Start sharpening your shooting eye, little man. Your day has come. The next prep season is only eight months away.

Editor's Viewpoint

Hail Candidates In Election Tues., Don't Forget Them

by BILL SCHROEDER

Remember to vote Tuesday.

There will be balloting in every village for council positions. Elections also are being held for offices in park and library districts. A number of special referenda questions will be up, including school tax increases. One of the most unusual elected positions will be that of director of the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency. The position is unusual not only because the agency is the only body of its kind in Illinois but also because the officials don't have any tax money to spend. The only way the agency operates is with grants and fees.

You'll need to bone up on the Voter Information Guide printed on yellow newsprint delivered as part of your local Lakeland Newspaper this week to prepare for the voting April 7 besides reading the final campaign articles elsewhere in this week's paper. The guide will tell you who's running, other issues and where to vote.

It's not coincidental that the voting guide is presented as part of the newspaper rather than mailed to you or inserted in some other form of printed material dropped on your doorstep. By and large, newspaper readers are voters and vice versa. The then County Clerk Grace Mary Stern researched this some years ago and found that it was true. That's why Lake County gets the guide to you as part of a newspaper rather than stuffing it in advertising shoppers which would be ignored by non-voters.

Your columnist has spent a good many years covering and writing about Lake County elections. We never cease to get excited about elections. Competition in the raw. We have a good deal of respect for the men and women who put their name on the ballot, no matter what their qualifications. It takes great courage to run for public office. Hats off to all the people on Tuesday's ballot, both the winners and losers.

Letters To The Editor:

Vote Your Heart

Editor:

It was no surprise that the board of the Libertyville/Mundelein/Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce opposes a "Yes" vote for the Fremont Open Space Dist. referendum. Whether or not all chamber members see eye to eye with its board, the latter never fails to remind us that it is the chamber's business to promote more development, more factories, more shopping centers and more customers.

That has been the formula in Buffalo Grove, Wheeling, Vernon Hills and the squabbling over Libertyville. Now the chamber, with an aim on Fremont's "undeveloped" farms and open land, with an assist from the Mundelein mayor, decides that it is its duty to tell Fremont residents what is good for them. Then when good businessmen should know better, the chamber's board presents a contrived set of scary high tax figures in a press release along with an explanation of the wrong reasons why hundreds of voters asked that there be a place on the ballot to find out how many people in Fremont would like to save some open space before the villages and the developers gobble it all up.

There are six villages in Fremont Twp.; Round Lake Park, Wauconda, Hawthorn Woods, Grayslake, Libertyville and Mundelein; all with a hungry look at Fremont's open spaces. Sure, it bothered Fremont's citizens when Round Lake Park presented them with a 4,800 unit trailer park with a potential 12,000 population. They have been incensed with the need to fight with their own time and money to try and stop 363, and possibly more, acres of smelly landfill, along with a massive polluting incinerator, reportedly encouraged by the county. Nor are all of the citizens in Mundelein clapping their hands with pleasure over the sight of the earthmovers at Midlothian and Hawley Rds. with the first new homes starting to pop up while some schools rush to their drawing boards to make estimates for new buildings and to their financial advisers to calculate new tax rate propositions.

No, there are people in Fremont (and Libertyville, too) who aren't counting on an open space program to stop a garbage dump. They are unfairly investing plenty of their own time and money to get that job done. And with an assist from the local governing bodies that are helping, they should win that battle. And so, too, should the citizens who go to court to cut down the density of a trailer park.

Yes, there are plenty of people who are willing to invest in an effort to preserve some fresh air and open space for the benefit of ourselves and children before some developer, or business, or promoter arrives to destroy what we have long enjoyed, then leaves us with the problems created. The farmer won't have to sell out or give an option to the operator ready to destroy the homestead and its farmland. The township with better intentions can offer an alternative to preserve the farm or establish a public recreational family landmark.

The true cost for a taxpayer to retire a 20-year $5,000,000 bond issue to be used to preserve and maintain land for public use is not unreasonable. Estimates prepared by the township financial and bond consultant state that the tax rate will be about .30 and no more than .40 per $100 of equalized assessed valuation of property. In the minimum years the owner of a $75,000 home would have a tax bill of $75, and would have a bill of $100 in a maximum year. A $100,000 homeowner would pay from $100 to $120. The estimated annual tax rate of .35 would create tax bills of $87.50 to $116 for the respective homes. When there was nothing here but open space and a few people we had no taxes. Everything else on the tax bill is there because of growth and development of properties. It is worth about four percent of a tax bill to hang on to some open space. It's a shame we have to buy it in order to save it.

Beg your Pardon

Mayor Colin McRae was incorrectly listed as mayor of Libertyville in the Letter to the Editor column last week. The error is regretted.

No one is being "duped" which is a word more commonly applied to annexation and development proceedings in some of our more irresponsible villages. We have a lot of concerned, honest people who have asked to have two questions on the April 7 ballot: "Shall the Town of Fremont enter upon an open space program?" and "Shall the Town of Fremont issue bonds to finance the acquisition, maintenance and development of open space lands...?"

As a former Lake County manufacturer for 40 years and owner of a chain of 19 retail stores, I have been a member of numerous chambers of commerce, so I can appreciate their point of view. But as a former forest preserve president and as a person who chose to bring a large family to Fremont, I have found it more rewarding to support those who wish to preserve enough land so that a quality of life is not completely destroyed. Please listen to your heart, too, and vote "Yes" for the open space program.

Listen To Citizens

Editor:

I am writing in regard to the proposed changes taking place in the Village of Antioch, such as apartments, shopping malls, and even a residential subdivision. This is growth, but is it really balanced?

First of all, the village board has admitted that the comprehensive plan for Antioch is outdated and "really should be updated one of these days." In the meantime, developers are having a field day as the board grants the rezoning of residential property to accommodate the building of malls and apartments. The village board has relied on surveys conducted by developers in regard to traffic and school overcrowding, rather than their own. Let's face it, a survey can be made to look favorable by anyone wishing to do so. It appears to me our village officials are so anxious to see Antioch grow that they are throwing caution to the wind.

It was recommended at the last village board meeting that a moratorium be placed on all future rezoning until the comprehensive plan can be updated to provide guidance for responsible growth in our community. Whether or not the village board heeds this advice remains to be seen.

Secondly, the village board seems to be trying to solve its tax base problems by building more and more apartments. Most of us who live in Antioch do so because it is a beautiful residential community. I have heard concerned citizens threaten to leave our town because of all the talk about more apartments being built here. What this town really needs is industrial/manufacturing growth. The village board has hired a consultant to help in this regard and this is a very good step. However, the concern of the citizens must also be represented. To meet this, formation of a citizens advisory board should be given careful consideration. This again would ensure fair treatment and representation for all.

For more information about how tickets can be purchased, call association secretary Helen Sorvari at (312) 623-3178.

Leading off with the first concert on Oct. 24, the Sofia Chamber Orchestra, a 15-member group recognized as one of the finest chamber ensembles in Europe, will perform music ranging from Baroque classics to contemporary. Virtuoso violinist Mincho Mitev will be featured as soloist.

The Johnny Mann Singers and Dancers will appear on Nov. 7 with a heart-warming presentation of American history emphasizing the best things about America and titled "Stand Up and Cheer."

On Feb. 27, the Philippine

Dance Co. brings a program displaying the charm and intense beauty of the varied Philippine cultural heritage. Marking its 11th visit to the U.S., this group has garnered rave reviews in more than a dozen countries.

Wide diversity of musical programming is a hallmark of the Empire Brass Quintet which will perform at the March 12 concert. From Bach to Bernstein and from Gershwin to Jelly Roll Morton, the group's repertoire has pleased a world-wide audience on its annual tours.

Talisman, a six-voice male vocal ensemble, will present a concert surveying six centuries of choral literature on April 9. Each member of the group is an experienced soloist in his own right, and together they produce a unique vocal color and perform with striking precision.

Concluding the series on April 30 will be Leonid Kuzmin, a Russian-born pianist who at the young age of 22 has been said to show "every sign of establishing a career of truly international stature."

Historical Society Sets Antique Show

available.

All proceeds from this antique show will be used to support the Historical Society Museum. The museum is in the old Antioch Grade School building located at Main and Depot Sts., Antioch.

Sebastian To Be At Opera House

John Sebastian, lead singer and songwriter of the legendary '60s pop-rock band "The Lovin' Spoonful," will perform at the Woodstock Opera House at 8:15 p.m. on Friday, April 24.

A prolific and highly acclaimed songwriter, Sebastian has penned such great hits as "Summer in the City," "You and Me and Rain on the Roof," "Did You Ever Have to Make Up your Mind?" and "What a Day for a Daydream." Sebastian also wrote and recorded "Welcome Back," the theme song for the television series "Welcome Back, Kotter."

Sebastian, whose easy-going style has been well-known since his appearance at the Woodstock rock festival in 1969, has kept his solo act much in demand for the past 20 years.

Opening the show will be Pat Donahue, winner of the "National Fingerpicking Championships" in 1983. A native of Minneapolis, Donahue is considered one of the finest fingerstyle guitarists in the nation, for his unique brand of technical wizardry and sensitivity on the instrument.

Along with his able voice and comfortable stage presence, Donahue spans a broad range of musical interests, from Joplin to jazz and from Beatles to Bach.

The beautiful Woodstock Opera House is located on the square in Woodstock. Tickets for the show are priced at $14 and $12, and are on sale at the Opera House box office. For tickets or more information, call (815) 338-5300.

Set Town and Country Amateur Art Show

The Lake County Town and Country Amateur Art Show will open to the public from 1 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, April 9, and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, April 10, in Building 7 at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake.

This year's show will feature works by more than 300 local artists in a variety of media. Those visiting the exhibit will have a chance to enjoy paintings, drawings, photographs, woodcarvings, needlework, ceramics, sculpture, jewelry, soft sculpture and weaving by local artists. Some of the works are for sale and purchase arrangements can be made by contacting the artists who produce them.

Adults who entered this year's show will be judged by Lois Hrejsa of Forest View, an instructor with the Art Institute. She will hold a critique session from 2 to 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 9, in Building 7.

Both the artist and the audience can receive a mini-lesson in art by attending the Town and Country critique. The judge will discuss a number of works from the show and relate the efforts of local participants to those of more well-known artists through the ages.

Works winning blue ribbons in the local competition will be eligible to participate in a regional show held in St. Charles in June. Works that receive blue ribbons in that show will be eligible for inclusion in the Town and Country Amateur Exhibition to be held next fall in Urbana.

More information about the show is available from Barbara Dahl, Lake County Extension Adviser, (312)223-8627.

PM & L To Do Comedy

Farical hilarity is promised by the cast of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way to The Forum," soon to be playing at the PM and L Theatre in Antioch.

Donna Badtke is directing and choreographing the comic action in the show with Nancy Thomas managing the action backstage.

Pseudolous, a slave (Frank Dimarco), leads and causes the twists throughout this musical set in Rome B.C. Owned by Hero (Peter Thelen), the son of Citizen Senex (Fran Jansta), and nagging wife, Domina (Dolores Finley), Pseudolous does everything possible to win his freedom and harass the chief slave of the house, Hysterium (Mark Badtke).

Hero falls in love with Philia (Jane Miles), a courtesan of the house of Lycus (Stan Livermore), next door. Lycus' collection includes Tintantabulla (Jennifer Biel, Debbie Beno alternately), Panacea (Margi Purfeerst), the Gemini (Carol Lentine and Roz Trusky), Vibrata (Tracy Kiederlen), and Gymnasia (Regina Reynolds).

Miles Gloriosus (Randy Miles), a Roman captain, has a contract with Lycus for a bride. He and his soldiers arrive to retrieve her. Further confusion is added by Erronius (Sander Sundberg), an old half-blind neighbor. The mainstays of the piece, the Proteans, are portrayed by Ron Casey, Bill Finley and Mike Hartman.

Show dates are April 3, 4, 10, 11, 17, 18, 24, and 25 at 8 p.m. with a matinee April 12 at 2:30 p.m. The PM and L Theatre is located at 817 Main St., Antioch.

Funny In 'Forum'

In PM&L Theater's production of "Funny Thing Happened On Way To Forum," are, left, Randy Miles, Jane Miles, Sander Sundberg and Stan Livermore, opening April 2-4 at 8 p.m.

Texas Coming To Grand Hotel

A Texas-style comedy/drama will be presented by the Pullman Players at the Grand Hotel in Wauconda. "Luanne Hampton Lavery Oberlander" is a play of extraordinary energy which enables the audience to peek into the secrets of Bradleyville, Texas—a small dead Texas town of 6,00, in the middle of a west Texas prairie.

The new highway has bypassed it and now the world is trying, also.

Bradleyville is brimming over with outrageous characters and down-home humor. Townspeople like "Skip Hampton" and "Red Grover" give the play a strength and realism rarely captured so accurately on the stage.

Opening night is Friday, April 10, at 8:30 p.m., continuing every Friday and Saturday night through May 16 (except Easter weekend) at the Grand Hotel, 110 S. Main, Wauconda.

Tickets are $6. Dinner is available. Since seating is limited, tickets must be reserved by calling (312) 526-5582. Group prices can be arranged.

Self-Mowing

Imagine a lawn that repels weeds, resists disease, dislikes fertilizer, stays green late in the season—and best of all—barely grows! According to International Wildlife magazine, a Canadian geneticist says he has produced 35 lines of such a miracle grass from 17 alpine species.

Big Brothers Orientation

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County invites all interested men and women to learn more about sharing their time and talents with a child from a single parent home. An orientation meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 7, at the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Office, 4213 Grove Ave., Gurnee. Volunteers spend three to five hours a week for at least one year with a child in need of a friend;

Steinem's Dream

According to International Wildlife magazine, the population of several species of whiptail lizards in the southwestern United States are entirely female. These lizards are capable of reproducing all on their own.

Get Past Buzz Words, Money Is Bottom Line

When I was a college student an author wrote a book called "The Tyranny of Words." The gist of it was that we are all the users of certain words that evoke or trigger certain feelings or actions. Examples: "Nazi," "the accused," "white knight." Since that time, there has been a steady growth industry that influences us with increasingly more sophisticated media blitz, subliminal suggestions, and other modes of brain washing by such "buzz words" or even "buzz sentences."

Medical care, a multibillion high stakes game, has attracted a lot of players. Many of them are money players only. They have very little to do with the hands-on care of sick people. They are good marketers and are proficient users of the repeated words that have made their product acceptable.

Here are some of the more familiar ones: "The insurance company, your friend, is there when you need it"; "Doctors have no regard for costs. They must be watched for needless surgery"; "Only the hospital has your interests at heart. If anything goes wrong, it's probably your doctor's fault. See how we care, that's why you got well"; "There's no insurance crisis, just careless doctors. Malpractice insurance will take care of itself if doctors take better care of their patients"; "Buy our insurance plan. It gets you well quicker because you go home quicker"; "We are way ahead of ordinary private medical care because we found out that you don't need a lot of care. So less care is better, and, of course, cheaper." And, "Doctors are not aware of medical costs so medical care is better if directed by businessmen"; "Congress can make medical care better and less costly by passing laws." Laws and lawyers merit a special paragraph.

"Lawyers are doing a public service by their malpractice suits. They only have the patient's welfare in mind, get him redress by the high awards and by their vigilance make the doctor practice better medicine."

By dint of countless repetitions these marketing plays appear plausible. Of course they are individually and collectively a snare and a delusion. When did the Congress make anything cheaper by passing a law? How often does the lawyer or any other of these groups that doesn't use hands-on-care actually contribute greatly to good care? More frequently, they drain off precious dollars that should be used for the patient's care.

When a column like this is written with rather contrary views to those fed to the public as ordinary fare the question comes to mind whether there's anyone out there identifying with it. After all, I'm not answering questions about individual problems like hemorrhoids, nor am I competing with Dr. Ruth, whose subject matter is so much sexier. So I was encouraged the other day when a young teacher commented to me that the rules about DRGs (diagnosis related groups) which keep us from treating the whole patient are similar to his problem with a five-year-old student with two disabilities. He can be treated for his speech defect but, by the rules, his learning disability must go by the board. He's expected to get better. My friend thought the boy would fall behind and give up, thus costing the state more in the long run. The old Medicare patient bears a great similarity. I was delighted to find someone out there is listening.

Musings: If there is such competition and an actual adversary relationship (by those engaged in providing medical care) will the public become aware that this poses a more immediate threat than being nuked?

Would it help if I give what I believe to be the adversarial lineup? Bear in mind that these people are not shooting at each other. They are engaged in a heavy marketing battle as ferocious as any seen on Wall Street. There will be bankruptcies, mergers, law suits and heavy government lobbying.

The lineup looks like this: Hospital vs. hospital, hospital vs. doctors. Doctors Vs. doctors, doctors vs. lawyers. Hospital and doctors (loose alliance) vs. insurance companies, with the former possibly soliciting a separate peace. Doctors vs. the medical associations. Shifting alliances at times as private medicine tries to fight an apparently hostile government intent on giving other groups an unfair advantage.

In case you're still with me, remember the innocent bystander frequently suffers the heaviest casualties. That's you. So don't be just a spectator. Musings hopes you get interested. Try to avoid the buzz words if you can.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

The first of these is the fact that the government has a long history of intervention in the economy. This has been done in a variety of ways, including the establishment of state-owned enterprises, the imposition of price controls, and the creation of a complex system of subsidies and taxes. The second factor is the fact that the government has a long history of corruption. This has been done in a variety of ways, including the establishment of a complex system of bribes and kickbacks, the imposition of arbitrary fines and penalties, and the creation of a complex system of red tape and bureaucracy. The third factor is the fact that the government has a long history of repression. This has been done in a variety of ways, including the establishment of a complex system of surveillance and control, the imposition of arbitrary arrests and detentions, and the creation of a complex system of torture and punishment.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to determine the scope of the problem. This involves identifying the specific area of the organization that is affected by the problem and the extent of the problem.

What are the chances of a communist revolution in the United States? It is a question that has been asked many times in the past, and the answer has always been the same: the chances are very small. The United States is a free country, and the people are free to express their opinions. The government is elected by the people, and the people have the right to change their government. The United States is a democracy, and the people are the masters of the country. The chances of a communist revolution in the United States are very small.

1. The first of these is the fact that the United States has a large and growing population of people who are not citizens of the United States. This is a result of the large number of people who have immigrated to the United States in recent years, and the fact that many of these people are not citizens of the United States.

Forced Resignation Could Jeopardize Bi-Partisanship

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

The apparently forced resignation of Dennis Ryan as attorney for the Central Lake County Water Planning Agency has touched off a controversy between Republicans and Democrats that, according to some, could cost bi-partisan support of public works projects from legislators.

Ryan, a Democrat, was

Lake County State's Atty. from 1976-80. He had served as attorney for the water agency for the last five years before resigning effective Jan. 1 of this year.

In his letter of resignation to all agency members, Ryan said, "I received a call from Chairman (Paul) Neal advising me that the agency did not wish to have me continue to represent it. I was obviously disappointed at this decision...and I had not had one hint of dissatisfaction with my services during the several years I have represented the committee and agency.

"However, a lawyer cannot function without the confidence of his clients and I am accordingly tendering my resignation as attorney for the agency..."

Ryan said that on Dec. 26, 1986, Paul Neal, chairman of the agency and mayor of Libertyville had called him and said that the agency had decided they didn't want him.

"He (Neal) said it was politically embarrassing to have a Democrat and advocate of open space as attorney for the agency," Ryan said.

Ryan is also attorney for Libertyville Twp. and has helped township supervisor, Mike Graham, draft open space district legislation.

He sent a copy of his letter to all agency members, which included Mayor Dick Welton of Gurnee, Mayor Ed Schroeder of Grayslake, Neal, Rep. Don Strenger from the county board, Mayor David Graf of Lake Bluff, Mayor Carl Schimpf of Round Lake Beach, and Trustee Donald Newby of Round Lake Park (Newby represents the Round Lake area consortium).

Schroeder called Ryan a few days later and asked what it was about, promising to bring it up at the next meeting. But Schroeder suffered some health problems and missed the next several meetings so it did not come up.

State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) was furious. "We've supported this water agency very vigorously on a bi-partisan basis," Matijevich said, noting that Ryan had been responsible for drafting much of the legislation on the project.

Calling it a gutter tactic, Matijevich continued, "This is crazy reasoning. (Even with the open space issue), attorneys operate on a professional level. He (Ryan) had been doing a good job for five and a half years. Then he's dumped because he's called an embarrassment?"

"The Republicans are in a minority in the legislature, but in this county got everything they wanted because of the good relationship between us.

"I was a co-sponsor of the pending bonding legislation for this agency, but I have removed my name as a sponsor," Matijevich said, emphasizing that if county Republicans are going to start punishing people for being Democrats, it could affect the bi-partisan effort that has worked to get things done for both parties.

Democratic County Board member Tony Serdar is expected to bring the issue up for review before the public works committee of the county board on Wednesday, April 1.

Attempts to contact Neal were unsuccessful, though he did return a call when the reporter was out.

Family Light Recipes Herald Spring

by GLORIA DAVIS

Despite Mother Nature's fickle attitude of late, winter seems to be waning and with it the need for the heavy, hearty meals that brought us such comfort and warmth when the icy winds were blowing and Jack Frost was having his annual romp.

produce in the supermarkets starts looking better and better and more appetite tempting.

In this case succumbing to temptation is just fine since fresh fruits and vegetables are the best source of vitamins and minerals we can find.

Focus On Food

According Karen Collins, M.S., R.D., working with the American Inst. of Cancer Research teaching people how to eat healthier, it's certainly not too early to go along with daylight savings time and start eating lighter, longer.

Happily, this is the time of the year that the fresh

Here are two recipes using those sources of Vitamin C, beta carotene, or Vitamin A, both nutrients that have been associated with a low rate of cancer.

Even though soup brings bad weather back to mind, here is a recipe for LIGHT MINESTRONE SOUP that will keep anyone in the spirit of spring.

Light Minestrone Soup

- 1/2 sliced medium head of cabbage
- 1 medium chopped onion
- 1/4 cup fresh parsley
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 5 cups of water
- 5 beef bouillon cubes
- 1-16 ounce can of tomatoes (chopped)
- 1/4 cup uncooked broken spaghetti
- 1 medium zucchini
- 1-15 ounce can red kidney beans

Sautee in a large pot in oil for approximately five minutes, cabbage, onion, parsley, garlic powder, oregano and pepper, stir. Add water, bouillon cubes and tomatoes and bring to a boil. Stir in spaghetti, beans and zucchini, stirring occasionally while cooking for 10 minutes until done. Makes four to six servings each about 130 calories and only two grams of fat.

Not let's look at a dessert that won't break the calorie bank, but is still a fitting ending for even the finest of meals. APRICOT YOGURT MOUSSE is high in Vitamin A, low in fat and should be garnished with pureed frozen strawberries.

Apricot Mousse

- 1/4 cup dried apricots (7)
- 1/4 cup frozen orange juice concentrate (thawed)
- 1/2 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 cup plus tablespoon of sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 3/4 cup plain lowfat yogurt

Combine apricot mixture and juice concentrate in a small saucepan, mix well and refrigerate overnight.

Place apricot mixture over medium low heat, cook 10 minutes until apricots soften, remove from heat not draining. Put 2 tablespoons of cold water into a cup and sprinkle gelatin on top, let stand until all of the water is absorbed, placing cup into pan of hot water to dissolve gelatin. Combine egg whites with lemon juice and 1 tablespoon of sugar, beat at high speed until stiff. Pour apricots, their soaking liquid and remaining 1/4 cup of sugar into blender or food processor to puree. Add warm dissolved gelatin and blend for 10 seconds, add yogurt, mix well. Fold apricot yogurt mixture into egg white, gently blending until just mixed. Gently put into lightly oiled 2-4 cup ring mold or individual serving dishes. Cover and refrigerate at least four hours. Each serving has only one gram of fat and 141 calories.

Realistic Options On Heartland Are Dwindling

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

FOR ALL THE talk about what is happening with Heartland, there are really only a few realistic options left.

First, the Waste Management application for incinerator and landfill is almost certainly going to be found to meet the criteria that the county has set. Even if it is defeated at the county level, it will win before the Pollution Control Board.

There is no doubt that the way it was presented was politically poor. The best case that can be made against it is that it did not go through the siting process that the county set up through the Solid Waste Advisory Committee, which is now the Solid Waste Joint Action Planning Agency.

Even a prominent opponent of the agreement has agreed privately that, if the case is judged on the criteria that the county has set, Waste Management will win.

Waste Management has had a good record, environmentally, except for a rash of problems which came to light in April, 1983. The company had grown tremendously in a very short period of time. After those problems, it hired a lot of top environmental experts. It has since taken great pains to make sure that its proposals are environmentally sound.

The source of the tarnish on the company's reputation is two-fold. First, there is the holdover from the problems experienced in 1983. Second, the company has had a problem with some of its employees getting involved in disreputable schemes. Most notably in this area, John Horak, the former head of HOD, a Waste Management subsidiary, was convicted of bribing former Fox Lake Mayor Richard Hamm in exchange for garbage contracts. Now, a former employee is a target in the Operation Incubator investigation in Chicago for paying a bribe in exchange for siting.

William Plunkett, manager of media relations for Waste Management, points out that the company is decentralized with many locally managed subsidiaries. He says that it is difficult to control the actions of all the local employees at every subsidiary throughout the country.

Alternate waste plans, such as recycling, are being offered by some county board members. It may be a good idea, but it is probably too late to offer as a method of defeating Waste Management's application.

Coincidentally, Waste Management is a leader in recycling technology and techniques. The program they operate in San Jose, Cal. has nearly an 80 percent acceptance rate.

Other proposals for the renegotiation of Heartland include having the forest preserve district buy the land. That, too, is unrealistic. The forest preserve would have to pay a premium price for that land. Quite frankly, they can get more bang for their (our) buck almost anywhere else in the county. I doubt there would be much support for a plan to pay top dollar for such land.

Realistically, I think the county can get the agreement it seeks by working with surrounding municipalities to set minimum zoning standards while allowing most or all of the property to be annexed to villages. Also, there could probably be more support if an extended buffer area around the Waste Management site were created. There must also be governmental responsibility for the landfill after its useful life is expended.

This will, undoubtedly, be a less than popular view. At this point, I think it is a realistic one.

House Forms Task Force To Study Immigrations

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) has been appointed to House Speaker Michael Madigan's Task Force on Immigration Reform.

Howdy Marine To Hold Opening

Howdy Marine, on Rte. 59 in Fox Lake will hold its grand opening from April 4-11.

The main showroom can display over 20 large sport and cruising boats. There is a 3,000 square foot display area for boating accessories from clothing to flares. The service center is large enough to accommodate a complete tractor-trailer inside while unloading boats and is capable of servicing boats up to 46 feet long.

A large lighthouse entrance dominates the front of the building. It is part of owner Bud Pretasky's use of a nautical theme to make the marina aesthetically pleasing.

Week-long grand opening events will begin Saturday, April 4, with an afternoon ribbon-cutting ceremony.

The task force will investigate concerns related to the new immigration reform law. Matijevich said that the law will affect hundreds of thousands of Illinois residents so it is important that the law be properly implemented.

The Task Force's first public hearing was held in Chicago.

Matijevich said that he has asked Rep. Joseph Berrios, chairman of the Task Force, to notify various organizations in Lake County of all meetings and information about the task force's work. Among those contacted will be SER For Progress, the Puerto Rican Society, Catholic Charities, St. Joseph's Church, the Knights of St. John and North Chicago 1st Ward alld. Maria Cervantes. He said that persons or groups who wish to be on the Task Force's mailing list should contact his legislative district office.

The purpose of the Task force is to:

--monitor the implementation of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 in Illinois and recommend ways for the legislature and state agencies to address immigration concerns;

--inform the public about the legalization and employer sanctions;

--provide input on the utilization of the federal block grant passed to help implement the new law;

--hold public hearings on the proposed Immigration regulations and recommend changes to Congress;

--analyze concerns related to health education, employment, legalization, public services, farmworkers and discrimination.

At its first meeting, the Task Force responded to the Immigration and Naturalization Service's proposed regulations that charge the fee of $185 for each person who applies for legalization, $50 for dependent children under the age of 18, and $420 maximum for each family.

"At this outrageous rate, very few people can afford to apply. We will recommend that the fee be rescheduled to lower rates," Matijevich said.

Preacher Pat Aiming For Address In D.C.

by JOHN STEINKE

Beware of the politician who speaks with the tongue of God.

That means you should keep your hand on your ballot in 1988. TV evangelist Pat Robertson is seeking the Republican presidential nomination. Robertson is a clever politician whose profession is religion.

When television evangelist Pat Robertson prays, God not only listens, but he obeys. Two years ago, Hurricane Gloria roared Robertson once said that on a trip to Shanghai he preached in English to his audience. Yet, the crowd heard him in their native Chinese dialects, as in the New Testament account of Pentecost (Acts 2).

Didn't Jesus Christ say that it was easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven? Wasn't it Christ that threw the money changers out of the Temple? Well, old Pat isn't exactly living in poverty. Robertson has said that CBN brings in about $230 million a year, most of it from viewer donations. Poverty Pat lives rent-free in a $400,000 Georgian mansion owned by CBN University in Virginia Beach. Nearby, the university owns a stable and arena where Robertson keeps his horse.

CBN also owns a spacious country home near the famous Homestead resort in Hot Springs, Va. Local residents say that Robertson stays there periodically and that he sometimes rides his stallion on the Homestead bridle paths.

There is also controversy over his military record. Robertson has said that he served as a Marine "combat officer" in the Korean War. Last Summer, Democratic Congressman Andrew Jacobs, Jr. of Indiana released a six-page letter from former Republican Congressman Paul McCloskey, Jr. of California on Robertson's Korean tour.

In January, 1951, McCloskey left San Diego on the USS Breckenridge along with Robertson and some 2,000 other Marines. The ship stopped at Yokosuka and Kobe, Japan. Robertson did not continue on to Korea. "My single distinct memory," McCloskey wrote, "is of Pat, with a big grin on his face, standing on the deck... saying something like, 'So, long, you guys, good luck,' and telling us that his father (Democratic Sen. A. Willis Robertson) had got him out of combat duty."

Several months later, according to McCloskey, Robertson and five other officers who had been pulled off the Breckenridge with him were reassigned to Korea. McCloskey claimed that Robertson had served as "division liquor officer," flying booze from Japan for his contingent. Robertson now admits that he did leave the USS Breckenridge in Kobe. But he contends that he was later transferred to Korea, where he served at 1st Marine Div. headquarters as an assistant adjutant for six months.

Last October, Robertson filed twin $35 million libel suits against both McCloskey and Jacobs over the charge that Robertson tried to use his father's influence to avoid combat duty in Korea. "It is important that I demonstrate the falsehoods of these stories," Robertson said. "Otherwise, if I am elected president, how could I, as commander in chief, ever order a young American into combat if the record is not absolutely clear that I never shirked military duty."

Frankly, I would prefer a sinner in the White House than a saint. After all, saints tend to be absolutists. I can imagine President Pat Robertson pressing the nuclear button with one hand while in the other hand he would be holding the Bible, reading from Revelations. And he'd believe it!

toward Virginia Beach, Va., threatening the satellite dishes of Robertson's Christian Broadcasting Network, the campus of his CBN University and even his country gentleman's homestead. Robertson went on the air to rebuke the winds. God responded to Pat's prayer and the hurricane vanished over the Atlantic Ocean.

Although he is an ordained Southern Baptist minister, Robertson is essentially a Pentecostal Christian who speaks in tongues, practices faith healing and works miracles.

Taxpayers Should Take Last-Chance Deductions

If you are one of the millions of Americans who has waited until the last minute to file his or her 1986 federal income tax return, better clip this column.

Tax reform reduced or repealed a great many popular tax breaks, but the changes didn't take effect until Jan. 1, 1987. So, your 1986 return will contain many "last-chance" deductions.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

Tax expert Howard A. Rabinowitz said 1986 will be the last chance for 25 million dual-income married couples who file jointly to take a special deduction of up to $3,000.

"You can take the two-earner couple's deduction even if you don't itemize," said Rabinowitz, a partner with the accounting firm of Arthur Young & Co. in New York.

The deductions for two-earner married couples was enacted in 1981 to reduce the extra tax burden that many working people encounter when they marry someone who also works. The couple's joint income often pushes them into a higher tax bracket, causing them to pay more taxes than they would have paid if they were single and filing separately.

The deduction is limited to 10 percent of the first $30,000 of income made by the spouse who earns less. For example, if you earn $60,000 and your spouse makes $30,000, your deduction is $3,000. However, if your spouse earns only $20,000, the deduction would be $2,000 (10 percent of $20,000).

Rabinowitz and other experts advise taxpayers to take advantage of the following last-chance deductions on 1986 taxes:

Individual Retirement Accounts. In 1986, you and your spouse can each deposit $2,000 in a tax-deferred IRA account and deduct the contribution from earnings. If one spouse has no earnings and the couple files jointly, the total contribution allowed is $2,250.

In 1987, IRA earnings still will be tax deferred, but you will lose part of the deduction if your adjusted gross income on a joint return reaches $40,000 and either your or your spouse is covered by a company retirement plan. No deduction will be allowed for married couples covered by pension plans whose adjusted gross income is more than $50,000.

Consumer interest. After 1986, the interest you pay on auto loans, credit cards and student loans will not be fully deductible. In 1987, only 65 percent of the interest on consumer debts will be deductible. Forty percent will be deductible in 1988, 20 percent in 1989, and 10 percent in 1990. In 1991, no deduction will be allowed.

Tax deductions for interest paid on first mortgages and most other home loans will continue to be tax deductible. However, check with your accountant before taking extra cash out of your home, through refinancing, a home-equity loan or a second mortgage. There are a few wrinkles in the new law that can cause a tax bite.

Capital gains. On 1986 returns, you are allowed to exclude 60 percent of net long-term capital gains from your income. That means only 40 percent of this income is taxed. So, if you are in the 50 percent tax bracket, it means you will pay only 20 percent on long-term capital gains. The 60 percent exclusion has been repealed for 1987. The top tax rate in 1987 on capital gains will be raised to 28 percent. In 1988 and after, it will be 33 percent.

Dividend exclusion: If you and your spouse file a joint return, you don't have to pay taxes on the first $200 of certain "qualified" dividends you receive from mutual funds or other sources usually will tell you how much of your dividends qualify for exclusion.) Single people can exclude $100 in such dividends. Starting in 1987, you can't exclude any part of your dividends from taxable income.

Employee business expenses. Your 1986 return is your last chance to deduct the full cost of business meals. Rules require that the meal take place in surroundings that are conducive to business and that you have a record of your expenditures, along with an accounting of the people involved and the nature of the business disclosed.

In 1987, you can deduct only 80 percent of meal and entertainment expenses. Also starting in 1987, you will be able to deduct employee business expenses only if they exceed two percent of your adjusted gross income.

Sales tax. This year is the last time you will be able to deduct sales taxes from your federal income tax. The IRS provides taxpayers with tables that estimate the sales-tax deduction, based on adjusted gross income.

However, "if you kept your receipts and you are willing to take the time to add up the actual sales tax you paid, chances are good that you will wind up with a bigger deduction than the IRS table amount," said Carl Schwab, a tax partner with the accounting firm of Price Waterhouse.

RAISING ARIZONA (R-20th Century-Fox) Starring Nicholas Cage, Holly Hunter, Trey Wilson. ★ ★ ★ ½ ★

By J.T. YURKO

How many comedies about infant kidnapping can you recall? That's the kind of film "Raising Arizona" is — a movie that takes chances with its plot and characters. It also makes the ultimate gamble — that there will be a market for such a film.

There is, but it may not be a mass market. Hi (Nicholas Cage) is a three-time loser, but he's no great criminal mind. His only real drawback is a penchant for robbing convenience stores. He has the ironic misfortune to fall in love with a policewoman, a sweet lady-in-blue who snaps his mug shot every time he gets arrested.

They marry, but their marital bliss crashes down in a veil of tears when Edwina (Holly Hunter) learns she cannot have a baby. Since Hi has a record, adoption is out as well. While watching television one night, they learn that a local furniture salesman by the name of Nathan Arizona has more kids than he can handle. Arizona's wife has been on fertility drugs and has given birth to quintuplets. Our star-crossed couple decide to adopt (kidnap) one of the quintuplets for their own.

Don't let this inept little premise mislead you. This is a comedy — and a hugely funny one at that. The kidnapping scene is handled in a broad, slapstick manner worthy of W.C. Fields and Baby Leroy, and the characterizations live somewhere between Marvel Comics and a 1980s version of Damon Runyon.

Particularly noteworthy are John Goodman and Bill Forsythe as Gale and Evelle Snopes, Hi's ex-con friends who come to "set" for a while, and Trey Wilson as Nathan Arizona. His scene with the police the morning after the kidnapping is a near-perfect blend of character and timing.

At the helm of this farce are two brothers, director Joel Coen and producer Ethan Coen, who have only one other film to their credit. That film was "Blood Simple" (1985), and its raw style and powerful visuals made critics and audiences take notice. "Raising Arizona" should gain the brothers even more recognition.

Playing nerds is a piece of cake for Gary Kroeger

By Constance Pace

Gary Kroeger is delightfully irreverent and glibly charming, qualities that probably have helped him keep his cool in a career filled with getting around gigantic pitfalls.

Gary Kroeger

For three seasons, he was one of the regulars (background players?) on "Saturday Night Live." That was during the era when that show was almost completely dominated by Eddie Murphy and Joe Piscopo. Now, he's starring as George Hamilton's hilariously nerdy sidekick, Ben Smythe, in the low-rated CBS series "Spies."

"Anything I say about 'Saturday Night Live' comes out sounding like sour grapes, but I really don't feel that way," Kroeger says. "I was kind of a fish out of water there because of coming out of Cedar Falls, Iowa. My whole life I wanted to be an actor. I wanted to be in the theater more than anything. I kind of fell into a comedy group called the Practical Theater, and (then 'SNL' producer) Dick Ebersol saw us in a revue and hired all three of us — me, Brad Hall and Julia Louis-Dreyfus.

"All of a sudden, there I was on what was really the Eddie Murphy/Joe Piscopo show. We used to call ourselves, 'And the rest ...' But I loved doing it. It gave me a background and confidence that I use to this day, and it's the most valuable education I ever got. But I would very often get roles that were nothing more than a setup to a scene — like delivering a telegram to Gumby.

"Sketch comedy wasn't exactly ideal for what I want to do," Kroeger continues, "so I'm happy I've gotten to do this continuing character on 'Spies.'" Kroeger feels that the Tuesday-night time slot of the show (opposite "Who's the Boss?" and "Growing Pains") isn't the best. He also feels that the show has a kind of low-key charm that requires a whole season to build an audience. "Spies," which premiered in March, is unlikely to get that amount of time. "The reason I'm scared about this now is that I absolutely love — these aren't p.r. words — love working with George Hamilton," says Kroeger. "I'm on pins and needles."

Kroeger notes that he has played a lot of nerds in his career. "Actually, I was the guy who was always picked on in high school. It really makes me care about the guy who has a huge disadvantage in his way. Ben's kind of a Barney Fyle in an obscure way."

The BOX SEAT

Mets pitching is very deep

By Marty Linehan

There's bad news for National League teams that have been waiting for the New York Mets to fall on their faces. Even though New York's fireballing Dwight Gooden has found the early going more than rough, he claims it is nothing to worry about. And even if Dr. K only returns to his 1986 form (17 wins, six losses isn't chopped liver), the New Yorkers are in good shape. Just look at the rest of the Mets' first-line pitching — Ron Darling, Bob Ojeda, Sid Fernandez and Rick Aguilera — not to mention relievers Roger McDowell and Jesse Orosco, and the world champions, whose season starts Tuesday, April 7, have to have a leg up on the rest of the league.

While last year's records generally don't mean much after the new season's first pitch, there have been few pitching staffs able to offer such fine stats: Ojeda, 18-5; Gooden, 17-6; Fernandez 16-6; Darling 15-6; and Aguilera, who didn't win his first game until July, 10-7. In relief, McDowell picked up 14 wins and Orosco had eight.

Six pitchers in double figures hasn't been done in the National League since 1979, when the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates and the Montreal Expos had that number. In the American League, the pennant-winning Kansas City Royals had six pitchers with more than 10 wins in 1980.

In 1971, the Baltimore Orioles won 101, with Met manager Dave Johnson playing second base, and had four 20-game winners. Dave McNally won 21, and Jim Palmer, Pat Dobson and Mike Cuellar racked up 20 wins each. But they still lost to the Pirates in the World Series.

The 1951 Cleveland Indians, with Bob Feller winning 22 and Mike Garcia and Early Wynn copping 20 each, had three 20-game winners, but they couldn't do better than finish second to the Yankees. The following year, the Indians again had three 20-game winners and, you guessed it, again finished second to guess who?

In the mid-1970s, the Cincinnati Reds won everything two years in a row, and they had no 20-game winners. They were close to the 1986 Mets who, although they won 108 games in the season, had no one in the magic circle of 20-game winners.

Johnson, looking back on the 1971 Orioles and comparing the Baltimore hurlers to his present flame throwers, says, "We had four 20-game winners, but they were pretty much veterans. These guys (the Mets) are still babies. As far as quality pitching goes, it can only get better."

But that's what Met fans thought after 1969 with Tom Seaver, Jerry Koosman and Nolan Ryan. Remember? Of course, those three did continue to get better. They just didn't

Tina Yothers is a veteran actress at the age of 13

By Lynn Hoogenboom

Tina Yothers first got involved in show business when she was 3 years old.

Tina Yothers

"My dad was an entertainer in his day," says the 13-year-old actress who is best known for playing Jennifer Keaton on NBC's Thursday-night hit 'Family Ties.' "He got this agent, and the agent became a close friend of my mom and dad. And when they started having children, my dad asked my brothers if they wanted to get involved, and they said yes. That's how I got in."

But acting wasn't a prerequisite for members of the Yothers family. "My parents never forced anything on us," Tina says. "They've always said, 'What do you want to do?' I have a sister who's never wanted to try it."

It wasn't the glamour of show business that attracted Tina. "Not at 3 years old," she says with a laugh. "It was always there if I wanted to do it, and one day I said, 'I want to try it.'"

When Tina was 7, she played youngest-daughter Mollie in Alan Parker's "Shoot the Moon," a harrowing film about divorce. "The director wouldn't let us stay and watch all the violent scenes and the yelling and screaming, so I didn't get to see that part of it," Tina recalls. "I thought it was going to be a comedy."

When she was 8, she started playing Jennifer on "Family Ties." Curiously, Jennifer seems to bear more of a resemblance to her '60s-oriented parents than she does to her very '80s brother and sister.

"I think Alex and Mallory have raised Jennifer," says Tina, by way of explanation. "If you have parents who are different from what you want to be, you're going to grow up and be different from them — like Alex and Mallory have. But Jennifer, I think, has been raised by Alex and Mallory, so she's going to go the opposite way from them. I think that happens in a normal family. I think my brothers and sisters have raised me more than my parents."

Playing Jennifer Keaton has opened the door to plenty of other opportunities. Tina is now the co-author of a book, "Being Your Best: Tina Yothers' Guide for Girls" (Pocket Books, $2.50), and she's working on an LP.

But she is, first and foremost, an actress. "That's what I want to be," she says. "That's what I've always been."

Bulldogs Hope To Keep NWSC Winning Ways Going

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Grant baseball coach Fritz Kazlauskys, when looking for inspiration for this year's baseball team, need not go much further than the start of the 1986-87 school year.

"The football team won the Northwest Suburban Conference and the basketball, wrestling and cross-country teams won the conference. I don't think any school has won all the sports in the conference. Our goal is to win them all. It would be a great accomplishment for the seniors," Kazlauskys said.

as the Bulldogs prepared for the season opener.

To add to the resume of success in Fox Lake, the present contingent has a good start based on returning players from last year's team. Grant finished 11-3 in NWSC action last spring, finishing second.

"We have eight lettermen returning and they are all starters coming back. The juniors were champions as sophomores so, with that combination, we should be all right," Kazlauskys said.

The group of returning Bulldogs includes two-year letterwinners Barc Borton, Mike Kazlauskys and Joe Vocke. Borton will be moving from first base to catcher, the same position he had as a sophomore. Kazlauskys is listed as a second baseman and shortstop while Vocke is expected to be the team's top pitcher.

Kazlauskys said one of his team's strengths will be hitting. Grant ripped through NWSC pitchers for a .368 batting average. Among the top returning hitters are: Kazlauskys, who batted .521 last year; Vocke, .463 and Jim Theobald, .326.

But Kazlauskys, who has spent more than 20 years coaching baseball at Grant, knows that pitching and Mother Nature often rule the day in the NWSC.

"The weather has a lot to do with it. Pitching dominates hitting so a team with one good pitcher can beat a better hitting club if the pitcher is on that day," the mentor said.

Kazlauskys said he expects his club to be strong defensively. Most of the infield from last year - Tim Berwanger at second or third, Butch Gorski at third when he is not pitching and Theobald or Kazlauskys at second.

"The infield is set," Kazlauskys said.

The outfield, though is a question mark.

Grant's pre-season preparations were put off a bit when the basketball Bulldogs advanced to the sectionals and some players reported late.

Grant's pre-conference schedule is a difficult one. Grant opened against state-ranked New Trier and other games featured doubleheaders against Libertyville and Waukegan West.

The NWSC season for Grant opens with a game April 8 against Round Lake, one of the teams, along with Lake Zurich, which figures to give Grant a run for its money.

"It depends on the attitude of the team. If the kids take it seriously, we can be a tough team," Kazlauskys said.

And if the Bulldogs take it seriously enough, Grant can chalk up one successful NWSC sports year.

Flynn Continues Career

A Round Lake Senior High School graduate is on the wrestling team at Eastern Illinois University.

Pat Flynn, a 126 pound wrestler, is a Round Lake graduate. EIU finished with a 5-8 record in dual meets and competed at regionals in Cedar Falls, Iowa March 7 and 8.

The Panthers completed their regular season with a 33-3 win over Southwest Missouri.

EIU coach Ralph McClausland said it's a whole new season when regionals start.

"Our team record is meaningless in regionals. Everything that happens earlier in the season is out the window. Every wrestler has a chance to qualify for regionals," McClausland said.

Carmel's Pudlo Hopes For Consistent Showing In '87

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Carmel baseball coach Joe Pudlo was pleased with the way the 1986 team started and ended.

But as far as the middle, which featured the bulk of the East Suburban Catholic Conference season is concerned, well, the coach would just as soon forget that part.

"Other than our good start and winning the first game in the regionals, there was not too much to be pleased with. Early in the year, we got away with some things," Pudlo said.

As far as the ESCC portion of the schedule was concerned, Pudlo described the league games "as a buzz-saw." Carmel started the year 7-2 before ESCC games but finished 12-16 last spring.

To rectify the situation this spring, Pudlo is placing an added emphasis on the "head game".

"One of the things we are trying to stress is to be physically as well as mentally ready to play," Pudlo said.

The Corsairs' fortunes will once again rely on a steady pitching performance.

"If we can get good pitching, we have a shot at being competitive," Pudlo said.

Returning as the early No. 1 pitcher is junior Scott Stahoviak.

Behind Stahoviak will be another area Pudlo is hoping to be a plus- the return of the team's Most Valuable Player last year, Steve Bruns at second and Bob Langer at shortstop.

"One of our strengths will be our middle infield play," the CHS mentor said.

In the outfield, Pudlo expects Jerry Maloney to play left as well as be a designated hitter.

The catching job is up for grabs, with Mark Ori and Paul Ostrowski battling for the starting berth.

Ken Self has the lead for the job at third base while Ken Godwin is expected to see action at first.

Corsairs' baseball fans should not be expecting a heavy hitting club.

"We'll be a singles and doubles hitting team," Pudlo said.

As far as this year's league race in the ESCC is concerned, the Carmel coach foresees a balanced conference.

"Joliet Catholic will be a real tough team and is in a good position with two pitchers' back. Marist should be good but the league is very balanced this year," Pudlo said.

Clip Job

Birds have been known to use some rather unusual building materials for their nests. According to National Wildlife magazine, a pair of canyon wrens in Fresno, Calif., built a two-and-a-half pound nest entirely of paper clips and other office supplies. And Florida bald eagles have used everything from Clorox bottles and light bulbs to magazines

CLC Nine Starts Strong

The College of Lake County's baseball team opened its season with a bang, winning four games in four days.

In the season opener, the Lancers swept host Lewis (JV) in a doubleheader.

In the first game, a 14-4 CLC win, Ray Salinas had a big day at the plate, going three-for-four, including a home run and three runs-batted-in. Salinas also pitched well in the opener, chalking up the win. Jeff Potts collected three hits in four plate appearances. He had a double and triple with three RBIs. Mike Foote had three hits and two RBIs.

Lake County took the second game 6-2. Gerard Giustino collected two hits, including a fifth inning three-run triple. Salinas also gained two hits with a double, single and a RBI. Salinas had three hits, two doubles and three RBIs. Giustino and Frank Diana added two hits and two RBIs each. Ron Landin relieved starter Vince Gawerecki in the fourth inning and gained the win.

CLC then played host to Rockford College and won a 16-8 slugfest. CLC found itself down 6-1 after two innings, and the third inning played the eventual decisive role in the come-from-behind victory. The Lancers scored eight runs in that inning, sending 10 batters to the plate.

Key offensive players were Salinas, who was a perfect five-for-five with two home runs, one double and four RBIs. Jerry Brown also put one over the fence - a three-run shot. Norm Niemo also popped one out, one of his two hits on a two-hit, two RBI day.

Winning pitcher was Scott Padilla, who came during the third inning to post his first win as a Lancer.

"Right now, we're still in a feeling out process, I wanted to let all the pitchers get some playing time, and so far, they've been outstanding. We've obviously got a lot of firepower, and with the spring trip, we should eliminate a lot of our errors. I feel if we can return to Florida with a .500 or better record, this could be an extremely successful season," CLC coach Gene Hanson said.

Meanwhile, the CLC Lady Lancer softball team is gearing towards another successful season. For the past several years, CLC has succeeded in winning the Skyway Conference.

"Hopefully, we will once again win the conference," first-year coach Sue Garcia said.

A year ago, Lake County finished with an 8-2 conference mark, 13-25 overall.

"Outside of the conference, CLC was 5-23. I hope to do better than that this year in that respect," Garcia said.

The Lancers have four returning players from last year's squad, including sophomore Lisa Tylkowski. Tylkowski will play either third base or shortstop.

"She has quick reactions and knocks down everything that comes her way," Garcia said of Tylkowski.

Newcomer freshman Jill Tegtmeyer will help CLC's pitching department. Tegtmeyer throws between 55 and 57 miles per hour and has four different pitches.

Garcia, in previous coaching experience, has coached fast-pitch softball for 13-15 years in Libertyville since 1980.

In the season opener, CLC split two games with Kishwaukee. CLC lost the first 2-1 but won the second 3-1.

Artists At Cedarburg For 'A Day In The Country'

Spend "A Day in the Country" enjoying a folk art show in historic Cedarburg. Over 50 of the Midwest's finest folk artists will sell their handmade items during this three-day show on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 24-26.

The show, sponsored by the Cedar Creek Settlement, will be held in the Cedar Creek Settlement at the corner of Washington and Bridge Sts. and in the Community Center Gym, W63 N641 Washington Ave. The two locations are just a block apart.

The show will begin with a public preview Friday evening, April 24, from 6 to 9 p.m. Admission to the preview is $3. The show continues Saturday, April 25, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday, April 26, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission for these two days is $2 and includes entry to both locations. Children under 12 are free when accompanied by an adult.

Folk art combines the love of Americana and the rich heritage of the country's diverse ethnic groups. In the past few years, folk art has become increasingly popular for its country warmth, whimsical appeal, and handmade excellence. "A Day in the Country" features items created in a variety of media including braided rugs, baskets, pottery, wood carvings, herb wreaths, stuffed dolls and animals, paintings, furniture, lamp shades, Native American art, jewelry, needlework, teddy bears, feather trees, and much more.

Cedarburg is located 17 miles north of Milwaukee, three miles west of I-43. Its quaint downtown is listed as a historic district on the National Register of Historic Places. Visitors will be delighted to find over 10 antique shops as well as charming gift shops and boutiques. The Cedar Creek Settlement, a restored 1864 woolen mill, houses three floors of shops including a working forge, winery, pottery and antique shops, quilt shops, restaurants, a year-round Christmas store, and numerous artists' studios. There are four "bed and breakfast" inns in the area for overnight guests.

For more information on "A Day in the Country" and a brochure about the Cedar Creek Settlement, write to N70 W6340 Bridge St., Cedarburg, WI 53012; or call (414) 377-8020.

Amish Acres Adds Theater To Array Of Attractions

Historic Amish Acres in Nappanee, Ind., a nationally known tourist attraction, has announced plans to present live theater productions of "Plain & Fancy" for 15 weeks this summer, beginning with a special performance on Sunday, May 25, and running through Sept. 6.

The play about the Amish is a Broadway musical classic which first opened in New York at the Winter Garden Theater in 1955. The production brought national attention to the quaint customs, stern morals and picturesque dress and language of these peaceable people.

Amish Acres will recreate those theatrical moments in a one-and-a-half hour production at 7 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays, in the intimate atmosphere of the newly constructed replica Locke Township Meeting House with high ceiling, enamelled vainscotting, wood floor and panel doors.

Adult tickets are $6.95, children under 12 $3.95. Dinner and theater, bed and breakfast and special group packages will be available. Reservations are now being accepted through Amish Acres' box office.

The historic farm is looking to a boost in local group business with the 3,000-square foot theater, attached to the farm's Greeting Barn. In combination with the 400-seat restaurant, the complex will offer one of the largest dining/conference facilities in the area.

Amish Acres has traditionally attracted a visitor mix of leisure travelers by car and motor coach for one-day destination tours, and increasingly has become part of package cross country and regional tours as the Elkhart County area becomes better known nationally.

With the new conference facilities Amish Acres offers the combination of a family-oriented setting and modern new meeting facilities in a very central location for all of northern Indiana and southern Michigan.

Amish Acres is an 80-acre Old Order Amish farm purchased for historical preservation in 1969 from the estate of the last Amish owner.

Amish Acres is located one mile west of Nappanee, Ind., and is open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. September through May, with extended hours in July and August. For more information, write Amish Acres, Nappanee, Ind., 46550, or phone (219) 773-4188.

Questions most asked about Voting!

Q. - DOES A SINGLE VOTE MATTER?

Elections have been decided by a single vote. Politicians measure how much the people of a community care what happens by how many vote. If you don't vote, you let someone else decide how you will be governed.

Q. - DO I HAVE TO VOTE EVERYTHING ON THE BALLOT?

No.

Q. - DOES MY EMPLOYER HAVE TO GIVE ME TIME OFF TO VOTE?

Yes, under Illinois law. But you must arrange a convenient time in advance. Your employer is not obliged to pay you for the time off.

Q. - DO I HAVE TO TAKE IDENTIFICATION WITH ME TO VOTE?

No, but if you have your voter identification card with you, you can check to be sure you are in the right polling place.

ABSENTEE VOTING

Many registered voters in Lake County are unable to vote in person at their polling place on election day. Below are the correct procedures to follow to vote by Absentee Ballot.

-1-

To obtain the proper application for an Absentee Ballot, call the Lake County Clerk's Office at 312-360-5912. The application will then be sent to you by mail.

-2-

Upon receipt, complete the application. Be sure to include your name, home address and, if different, the address where you want the ballot to be mailed.

-3-

After completing the application, mail it to the County Clerk's Office. All applications must be received by the Clerk's Office on or before Thursday, April 2, 1987 in order to be processed. Your ballot will be mailed to you promptly.

-4-

You may also vote in person at the County Clerk's Office or at several other locations throughout the County. In person voting will be conducted until the close of business on April 6, 1987. Call the Absentee Voting Department at 312-360-5912 for the location nearest you.

V O T E April 7

Barkhausen Attacks Uninsured Motorists

Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) plans to seek a broad range of solutions to accidents caused by uninsured motorists in the current session of the legislature.

"Uninsured motorists tend to be the most reckless drivers, and they are a menace to the responsible motoring public," Barkhausen said.

Barkhausen, who has supported various forms of mandatory insurance legislation in the past, labels them "inadequate and very expensive to enforce. We need more effective and less bureaucratic solutions."

Barkhausen is currently exploring a three-prong attack against uninsured motorists:

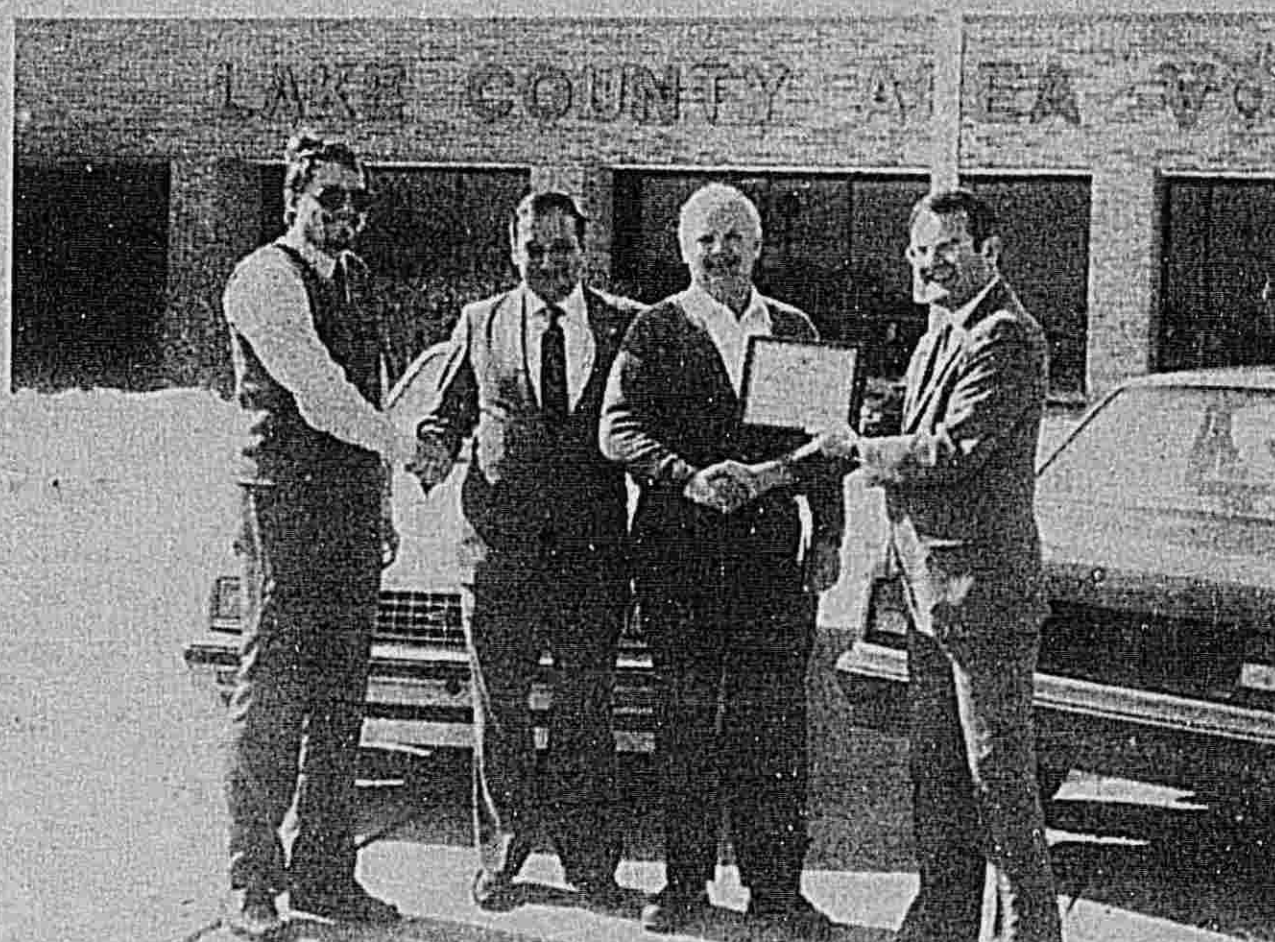

--Increase the required coverage in the standard automobile liability insurance policy and the uninsured motorist coverage. Currently, the coverage can be as low as $15,000 per victim and $30,000 per accident. Barkhausen maintains that increasing required coverage to $100,000/$300,000 would mean only a slight increase in premiums.

--Require uninsured motorists to pay $200 when they are licensed to create a fund to compensate those injured by these drivers. Barkhausen noted that Virginia has had such a plan for several years, and they have a seven percent rate of uninsured motorists compared to 20 percent in Illinois.

--Strengthen Illinois' Financial Responsibility Law, which requires the suspension of licenses of uninsured motorists who fail to pay a judgment against them. "There is an intolerable delay between the time of an accident caused by an uninsured driver and the automatic suspension of that driver's license," Barkhausen said. "There ought to be a requirement for posting bond shortly after such an accident occurs or a summary suspension of the driver's license like the kinds now required in cases of drunk driving."

"Any of these proposals would be helpful in addressing the continuing problem of the uninsured motorist," Barkhausen suggested. "Together they would be far more effective than any proposal for mandatory insurance and would help to provide complete and comprehensive coverage for injuries caused by these irresponsible drivers."

Way, staff specialist of General Motors Chevrolet Div.; and Rich Stevens, LCAVC auto mechanics lead instructor. Stevens said, "These are the new computer monitored cars and make our program state-of-the-art."

'Sky Eye' Takes Kids On Fun-Filled Galactic Tour

While helping a lost space traveler find his way home, children will see galaxies, nebulas and even visit another planet in "Sky Eye," the Adler Planetarium's newest children's sky show, April 4 through July 25. They will help make the sky blue, learn to tell direction from the sun's movement, and learn to identify constellations such as the Big Dipper, the Summer Triangle and Sagittarius.

"Since our children's sky shows are written for kids under six, we can have a lot of fun with the basics such as directions and constellations," said April Whitt, planetarium astronomer in charge of children's programs. "And looking at the different things in the sky is the perfect time to introduce a visitor from another planet. He's a cute little guy named Sky Eye and he comes from the planet Schrillich Seven."

Before visiting Schrillich, the audience takes Sky Eye on a tour of Chicago and shows him the tallest building on earth. On their way to see Sky Eye's home, they are treated to a view of the stars of earth's southern hemisphere and of the earth as seen from space.

"In addition to meeting an extraterrestrial, 'Sky Eye' includes several things to do for children in the audience," commented Whitt, "and after the show there is an activity sheet for them to work on."

Children who attend "Sky Eye" can also enter the "Sky Eye Coloring Contest." Entry forms on the back of the activity sheet are available for children two to eight years old. Entries will be judged in four age groups and are due May 16. Gift certificates redeemable at the Planetarium Store will be awarded as prizes.

"Sky Eye" will be presented at 10 a.m. on Saturdays. Admission to the children's Sky Show is $1.50 per person, and parents are encouraged to attend with their children.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: Food for thought: watch your diet.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Before you start that new diet, make sure you get a more complete physical. It's possible that something more than a change in food is needed.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Energy levels tend to fluctuate at this time. Keep to a sound schedule of exercise, rest and eating time to keep yourself in the very best of health.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Expect some lingering aftereffects of that previous unpleasant business. These nasty situations sometimes take a little time before they disappear.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) Changes in travel plans need to be considered if you want to take advantage of a new opportunity. Others will understand when you fully explain.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Family members look to you to set the pace for a new vacation schedule. It's a good idea to firm up your time off before you run into a complication.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A look ahead should show a clearer picture as you come out from under some of the pressures that have been part of your life for the last few years.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your best intentions need an occasional reinforcement boost from your best friend; you. Try to see yourself as others see you. You are special!

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Work out past problems with a former adversary before attempting a new project. You both need to start fresh and with positive attitudes.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Consider the current emotional climate much like the weather: if you wait a little while, things will change. Don't fret over the response you get.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Those difficult periods that seem insoluble may need some shifting of gears before they can mesh with your other priorities. Chart a new course.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A friend with problems needs your careful loving consideration during a very tense period. But don't neglect your own family at this time.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A difficult decision needs all your attention for a little while. Afterwards, take time out to relax with friends and kin. Make plans for a vacation.
